Dr. Sharad R. Gadakh
Ph.D.
VICE-CHANCELLOR

Dear Student Friends,
Warm Greetings,

Deciding on a suitable career option after the Higher Secondary School examination is considered to be one of the most crucial and career-defining decision in a student's life. As a result, it becomes essential for the student to think, plan and execute their aspirations in the right direction so as to set focused goals for future.

The ultimate goal of education is to spark a pursuit of knowledge in the student so that they keep on learning as they grow. Education leads to knowledge empowered individuals and there is no substitute to knowledge. The existing and emerging technologies hold the key for enhancing productivity, food security and poverty alleviation. Harnessing the potential of such technologies for food security requires development of human capital. The fisheries science is one such sector which provides scope for students to explore their inner abilities and also add to the benefits of the society.

Fisheries sector plays an important role in the Indian economy. It contributes to the national income, exports, food and nutritional security and in employment generation. Presently, India is the second largest fish producing and second largest aquaculture nation in the world. Our overall fish production has crossed 14 million metric tonnes (MMT) with a growth rate of almost 8% and today we are ahead of all countries except China. An inland fishery has a share of 74% of this production (10.44 MMT), of which 80% of the production comes from aquaculture. Coming to aquaculture, India is the second largest producer of fish from aquaculture. The aquaculture sector of the country is growing at an annual average of more than 10%. The export of marine products stood at 12.9 lakh metric tonnes and valued Rs. 46,662.85 crore (6.68 billion USD) in 2019-20 despite the market uncertainties due to covid-19 pandemic outbreak. The sector has been showing a steady growth in the Total Gross-Value Added and accounts for about 7.28% share of agricultural GDP. (Source: Handbook of Fisheries Statistics, 2020). Despite such a growth, the fisheries sector has not been fully explored due to inadequate skilled human resource. Qualified and trained manpower is a critical input for fisheries research and development in the country. Considering the potential and need of the fisheries sector in the state, country and globally, the two constituent Fisheries Colleges of this University located at Nagpur and Udgir offer Bachelor of Fisheries Science (B.F.Sc.) degree programme.

The emerging field of fisheries and aquaculture provides the fisheries graduates ample opportunities to work as Fisheries Biologists & Research Assistants in Academic Institutes, Fisheries Development Officers in State Department, Technologists and Managers in Fish Processing Companies, Fish Quality & Export Inspectors, R & D professionals, Aquaculture Technicians and Consultants etc. The fisheries graduates can also develop their own enterprise in sectors such as aquaculture, fish feed manufacturing, ornamental fish breeding and culture, fish seed production and fish processing and marketing. Thus, as this sector is highly remunerative, it is being considered as a major source of employment generation and newer career avenues. I, therefore, strongly recommend the students and parents to consider developing a career in fisheries sciences.

I wish you a bright career ahead.

(Dr. S. R. Gadakh)
